

Photo of the Week

#595: Another Puzzler

Longtime visitors to this page know that I'm an English major, not an electrician. I know how to throw a circuit-breaker at home if I'm replacing a light fixture or wall switch, but that's about it. I have no professional experience with lockout procedures.

That being said, I'm pretty sure they involve something more than just having a couple locks hanging around a panel box.

Want more?
<< Previous | Next >>