

Photo of the Week

#634: Did You Need Some Privacy?

We don't think this hazmat locker was put here on purpose just so the eyewash station would be as close as possible. No, we think someone wasn't thinking at all.

Granted, precautionary gear and safety-related equipment ought to be easy to get to and easy to use. But when your eyes are burning and blurry is not time an impromptu game of hide-and-seek.

Want more?
<< Previous | Next >>